GlobalScot, Life Sciences Champion and Scottish Broadcaster Turned Entrepreneur Join Impressive Line-up at Entrepreneurial Scotland's Annual Summit

GlobalScot, Alan McIntyre, and Life Sciences champion, Hugh Griffith, will take to the stage next month (Thursday 25 April) at Entrepreneurial Scotland's Annual Summit (ES Summit 2019). Scottish broadcaster turned entrepreneur, Janice Forsyth, will also join the event as Chairperson alongside Iain Anderson of Cicero Group.

Alan McIntyre is Accenture's Senior Managing Director for Global Banking and is based in New York. He is responsible for Accenture's overall vision and strategy in the banking sector, investment priorities, client offering development and supporting its network of alliance partners. In 2018, Alan was inducted into the GlobalScot Hall of Fame, recognising his contribution as a Scottish business ambassador.

Alan McIntyre, said: "Despite living in America for most of the last 20 years, I remain deeply connected to Scotland and committed to supporting the success of Scottish businesses. I look forward to challenging the entrepreneurs in the room to have a truly global mindset."

As well as internationally successful business leaders, delegates will hear how entrepreneurship in other sectors such as Life Sciences is equally as influential. Hugh Griffith is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of NuCana plc, a Nasdaq listed biopharmaceutical company, developing a portfolio of novel medicines focused on significantly improving survival outcomes for patients with cancer. Hugh is involved in several other biopharmaceutical companies and a biopharmaceutical business angel syndicate that he formed in 2009. He recently received a lifetime achievement award for 'Outstanding Contribution to Life Sciences' from the Scottish Government.

Hugh Griffith, said: "Developing innovative medicines for patients with cancer is a truly global enterprise but one that can be successfully managed from a Scottish headquarters. I'm excited to be able to share some of my experiences with Scotland's wider entrepreneurial community."

Returning in 2019, Cazenove Capital is supporting ES Summit as headline partner and award-winning broadcaster and writer, Janice Forsyth, will be back chairing the event. Janice hosts the arts show on BBC Radio Scotland and is currently developing a global online platform for Scottish culture.

Janice Forsyth, said: "Having attended the ES Summit before, I am thrilled to be returning in 2019 – it is a powerful and thought provoking event that provides many light bulb moments and makes you realise Scotland's potential."

ES, the country's leading business membership network, has assembled a world class line-up of international entrepreneurs to share their knowledge, experience and insights with Scotland's business leaders.

The line-up of speakers also includes: Jo Fairley, founder of chocolate brand, Green & Blacks; Steven Gray, CEO of ROVOP, the independent provider of subsea remotely operated vehicle services; Stefani Grosse, CEO and founder of the prestigious active wear range, Monreal London; Sonia Lo, the CEO of Crop One Holdings, the world's largest vertical farmer - the practice of producing food in vertically stacked layers, surfaces and/or structures; Charlie MacGregor, the CEO of the innovative hotel chain The Student Hotel; David S. Rose, CEO of the global financing platform Gust; Entrepreneur Mike Soutar, co-founder of Shortlist Media and a regular on the BBC TV programme, The Apprentice.

Tickets for the ES Summit 2019 and dinner at The Gleneagles Hotel are on sale now.

Cazenove Capital – wealth management

As a long-established wealth manager with an absolute focus on preserving and growing our clients' wealth, what matters most to our clients, matters most to us. Private individuals, family offices, trusts, institutions and charities all rely on us to provide them with bespoke wealth management services. Skilled in investment management, wealth planning and banking services – we also offer discretionary fund management to external advisers and their clients, and we are the largest charity fund manager by assets under management in the UK.

For two centuries we have helped clients look forward to a successful future. With each client, we plan for the long term and invest the time to gain a detailed understanding of their unique circumstances, goals and ambitions. The majority of our clients, and many of our own people, work with us for years, decades and even generations. This creates relationships of unusual depth.

Our experience of navigating complex markets and adapting to change helps us balance risk and reward. The investment expertise we call upon as part of Schroders, a truly global asset manager, combined with our long-standing experience of advising clients, is what sets us apart.
